

EQUAL SUFFRAGE CONSTITUTIONAL SUPREME COURT

Efforts of Maryland Men to Have Nineteenth Amendment Declared
Invalid, Unsuccessful

U. S. POWER SUPREME

Legislatures Not Granting Women
the Vote Cannot Assert Their Authority

Washington, Feb. 27.—The constitutionality of the nineteenth, or woman suffrage, amendment, was sustained today by the supreme court in an unanimous decision rendered by Justice Brandeis.

The challenge came from the state of Maryland, where Oscar Leser and others sought to prevent the registration of two women as qualified voters in Baltimore and his associates contended that the constitutionality of Maryland limited suffrage to men; that the legislature of Maryland had refused to ratify the woman suffrage amendment, and that the amendment had not become a part of the federal constitution. The Maryland state courts sustained the amendment.

The contention that an amendment to the federal constitution relating to additions in the electorate cannot be made without the consent of the state, the court disposed of by reference to the fifteenth or equal suffrage amendment, declaring that "none can be valid and the other invalid." It pointed out that the validity of the fifteenth amendment had been recognized for half a century.

Federal Power Supreme.

The suggestion that several of the 36 states who ratified the nineteenth amendment had provisions in their state constitutions which prohibited the legislature from ratifying, could not be entertained, the court stated, because the state legislatures derived their power in such matters from the federal constitution, which "transcends any limitations sought to be imposed by the people of the state."

Another attack upon woman suffrage was disposed of by the court today, in an opinion handed down by Justice Brandeis. It came from the courts of the District of Columbia, which, brought by Charles E. Caffery of New York, who sought to compel the withdrawal of the ratification proclamation. Justice Brandeis stated that the case must be dismissed because Caffery had no standing which warranted him in bringing such a suit.

Arguments of Opponents

The fifteenth or race suffrage amendment, adopted after the war between the states, was not a precedent, it was asserted, by the opponents because it was an expression of the "results of revolution," acquiesced in by all the people, for the "reconstruction" of the nation, by extending to the negro race freedom and equality, for which the war was fought. Any other method "for permanently revising the inevitable decree of the civil war would have been equally effective," it was argued.

Should it be held, not withstanding these objections, that Congress had constitutional power to submit the amendment for ratification by State legislatures, the prescribed procedure of the legislature, required for constitutional ratification, did not give their approval, the opponents of woman suffrage insisted naming Missouri, Tennessee and West Virginia, counted among the thirty-six states necessary for ratification, as not have legally acted.

Declaring the issues presented were "political," seeking to obtain from the court an "opinion" or "construction" on the contentions raised, the Government asserted that the Supreme court consistently had refused to deliver an "interpretation" of the law because it was beyond its power. It took this position when requested for an "opinion" by George Washington, and has on repeated occasions adhered to it.

Whether the government of a state was republican in its nature; and whether a proposed constitutional amendment had received the approval of the necessary number of State legislatures, are not, the friends of the amendment insisted, judicial questions. Replying, however, to the assertion that the amendment had not been legally ratified, the government asserted that Missouri, Tennessee and West Virginia had been properly excluded, but that if Missouri was excluded, that being the only one, the amendment would be null and void, under any reasonable contention, it was offset by Vermont and Connecticut, which had ratified after the proclamation had been issued.

TO DEBATE OFFERS OF FORD'S RIVALS

House Military Committee Hopes to Complete Consideration of Muscle Shoals This Week

Washington, Feb. 27.—The Ford offer for purchase and lease of the government's war-projected properties at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was temporarily sidetracked today by the house military committee after almost three weeks' continuous investigation, and the way was cleared to begin consideration tomorrow of the rival proposal for the same properties submitted by the Alabama Power company.

At the same time, Chairman Kahn said the committee hoped to dispose by the end of the week all hearings on offers before it, including those from Mr. Ford, the Alabama Power company, and Frederick E. Engstrom, and begin work next week on preparing a report for the house reflecting the committee's opinions on the various proposals it will have studied.

While the power company omitted in its proposal to make any provision for the manufacture of fertilizer or the operation of nitrate plants No. 1 and 2, it was understood that its officials had received information from independent interests indicating that they would ask the government for lease of the plants for use in commercial fertilizer production.

It was pointed out that this enterprise would be established by new capital from American sources and be entirely on the part of the power company or existing fertilizer producers, in the event the Alabama Power company's offer was accepted before the assembly agriculture committee on the Peris-Witter skinned milk bill.

Supporters of the measure, led by Byrnes A. Pyke, commissioner of farms and markets, included representatives of the Dairyman's league, and other dairy interests.

In addition to setting a standard of eight and one-half per cent milk sold as skinned milk, the measure seeks to require that when such milk is mixed with any other fats or oils, and sold as condensed or evaporated milk, it must be so labeled. Miss Laura A. Caudle, representing the division of "business" of the Dairyman's league, and Albert Manning, chairman of the agricultural conference board of New York state, spoke for the measure.

O. R. McKee, representing a condensed milk company, opposed the measure, asserting that the milk substitute sold by his company was not for infant feeding, and that it already was stated so on the labels of the cans.

Mr. McKee asserted there was a legitimate use for such milk for cooking and baking and that there had never been a single instance where its use was known to be injurious.

URGES LEGISLATION TO PROTECT BROKERS

District Attorney Bantua Favors
Registration and Licensing to Prevent "Wild Cat" Ventures

New York, Feb. 27.—Immediate legislation to protect stock speculators through inspection of the brokers and exchanges, was advocated by District Attorney Bantua tonight in statement before the assembly finance committee on the bill for the registration and licensing of brokers.

Mr. Bantua also urged enactment of a law at this session of the legislature providing against the issue of "wild cat" securities and for registration and licensing of brokers.

He declared that propaganda made to the district attorney. It is hardly correct to say that the investigation of these complaints has been responsible for the panic feeling that prevails in certain quarters of Wall street.

No honest brokerage house or upright business man, he asserted, has anything to fear from the district attorney's office.

HOUSE MAY POSTPONE BONUS ACTION FOR WHILE LONGER

Washington, Feb. 27.—Postponement of house action on the soldier bonus bill for while longer was suggested today by Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican leader, after he and Chairman Fordney, of the ways and means committee, had conferred with President Harding at the White House.

THE BRIDE AND GROOM

Princess Mary, only daughter of Britain's royal pair, will become the bride of Viscount Lascelles in Westminster Abbey today.

Abbey authorities are finding themselves in the curious position of having no precedent for the forthcoming ceremonial. The last marriage of a child of a reigning monarch in this Abbey, that of Edmund Crouchback, second son of Henry the Third, to Aveline of Lancaster, took place 653 years ago. The customs of that time are deemed inappropriate for today.

Royal Bride Accorded Affectionate Acclaim Wherever She Travels

(By the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 27.—Princess Mary, who tomorrow will become the bride of Viscount Lascelles, is perhaps even better known by sight than her mother, Queen Mary. Because of the popularity which attaches to youth and the public-framed title "Princess," the royal bride is accorded affectionate acclaim wherever she goes.

Her features are as familiar as those of any member of the royal family, not excepting the Prince of Wales and by women and girls of the kingdom, at least, she is held far more worthy of notice in any gathering of notable than the Prime Minister or any other political hero of the day. She would certainly be more readily recognized by English women than any heroine of the moving picture screen.

For all this it is doubtful if there is anyone in the land concerning whose private life and characteristics less is known. Hers has been a life lived in such complete privacy that only her intimate friends are acquainted with the real quality of her personality.

According to the few who can claim to know her intimately, the keynote of Princess Mary's character is her unselfishness. In all essentials she has lived very quietly and the pleasures that have fallen to her lot have only been sufficient to arouse within her a keen sense of enjoyment and to form her own personal tastes.

Enjoys Country Life.

Her heart is not in a social existence, although she is fond of dancing but her greatest happiness has always been in the enjoyment of country life and country ways. Love of the country and of Scotland's beauties are deeply rooted in her. One of her more particular interests is the study of trees and she has a comprehensive knowledge of their many varieties.

She is an excellent horsewoman, and at Epsom she drives a pair of spirited greys and has, at times, driven a four-in-hand. She loves her horses and particularly her hunter and never looks better than when in the saddle.

Second to her life in the country, Princess Mary has found her greatest interests and happiness in the wards of the Children's hospital in London. Here she nursed regularly during the war and became so imbued with the love of it that after the conclusion of peace she continued to work there twice a week.

She has a great natural aptitude for the work—so much so that she has not only gained a good practical experience of nursing, but has assisted at surgical operations.

Her special aptitude for nursing came out the more strongly in that she was caring for children. She is never so happy as when spending an hour playing with the children of her married friends.

Her enjoyment of country life and her special aptitude for nursing have precluded the Princess from developing her tastes on the artistic and musical side of life. Few girls will come into the possession of a fine house, of pictures and of old furniture.

N. Y. SWINDLER UNDER ARREST

Alfred D. Lindsay, Former Broker,
Accused of Mulcting Society
Women of Million Dollars

INDICTMENT VOTED

At Dramatic Hearing, Mrs. Lillian Duke Testifies She Lost
Entire Fortune

New York, Feb. 27.—Alfred D. Lindsay, former stock broker, wanted here for mulcting society women of more than a million dollars, was arrested tonight in Overbrook, Pa., according to an announcement from police headquarters.

An indictment charging the fugitive with grand larceny was voted by the grand jury today following a dramatic hearing in the course of which Mrs. Dorothy Atwood, New York society woman, became hysterical and temporarily halted the proceedings.

Mrs. Lillian Duke, divorced wife of the "tobacco king," testified that Lindsay had obtained her entire fortune, more than $375,000, through his promises to make a vast fortune for her through stock market transactions.

Witnesses declared that Lindsay won their confidence by convincing them of his close business connections with leaders of finance with whom he claimed to have nightly meetings at which stock exchange operations were fixed up between games of dominoes.

The report of the arrest reached headquarters by telephone. Detective Sergeant William A. Roddy, attached to the staff of Acting Inspector E. J. Coughlin, commanding the detective division of the police department, got his chief by long distance, announced he had captured the runaway, and asked further instructions.

Inspector Coughlin indicated that immediate steps would be taken to bring about Lindsay's extradition.

"Financial Blues," Latest Popular Song.

New York, Feb. 27.—Financial woes overtook five more brokerage houses in Wall street today.

Involuntary bankruptcy petitions were filed against four, while a fifth, C. W. Starbuck & company, made a voluntary assignment for the benefit of creditors.

Today's failures brought the total since last November up to 55.

The firm of Mosher & Wallace was the first to go down today. Liabilities were estimated at $175,000, while assets were not stated.

The same fate quickly overtook Thomas H. Cowley & company and Shewry & Falkland, liabilities and assets of the former being listed respectively as $100,000 and $40,000, while in the case of Shewry & Falkland, liabilities alone were estimated at $50,000.

Neither liabilities nor assets were estimated in the petition against Gamble & Yates. This firm, like C. W. Starbuck & company, is an "outside house," with no exchange connections.

FOUR KILLED IN MEXICAN DISORDER

Police Fire on Crowd of Striking
Chauffeurs Holding Demonstration in Front of City Hall

(By the Associated Press.)

Mexico City, Feb. 27.—Four persons were killed and many wounded this afternoon when the police fired on a crowd of striking chauffeurs who were holding a demonstration in front of the city.

Two of those killed were chauffeurs and two policemen.

The chauffeurs called a strike this morning, owing to a disagreement over the issuance of licenses, and held numerous parades.

The police at first fired over the heads of the chauffeurs, but when the chauffeurs charged, they fired point blank at the advancing men, two of whom were killed outright, while a score of others were wounded.

The chauffeurs then retreated, maintaining their fire, which resulted in the death of the two policemen.

During their rush on the police, the chauffeurs captured several weapons and took them to the national palace and delivered them to the presidential guard, with great ceremony.

Desultory fighting continued for more than an hour. It eventually was silenced when President Obregon, from the national palace, sent out officers ordering a cessation of the sniping.

TARIFF DISCUSSED AT WHITE HOUSE

Harding Desires Speeding Up of Work on Measure, Now in Senate
Finance Committee

Washington, Feb. 27.—The tariff bill was discussed today at a White House conference between President Harding and Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican leader, and Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee. It was indicated afterward that the executive desired a speeding up of work on the measure, which is now in process of re-writing by Republican members of the senate finance committee.

Specific rates in the bill occupied the attention today of the senate committee, some of whom said a decision in the controversy with house leaders over American valuation probably would be deferred until work on the rates had been completed. The ad valorem duties, it was said, still are being re-written on the basis of the foreign valuation of the imported articles, but it was disclosed that at the same time experts attached to the committee are translating these rates into figures based on the American wholesale price of the goods.

So that if the American basis finally is agreed upon, the substitution of figures can be accomplished without delay.

Chairman Fordney reiterated today that he would insist on a bill with American valuation and added that it was his opinion that if the senate measure did not provide for such valuation it would be referred to the ways and means committee for re-drafting instead of being sent to conference as would be the usual procedure.

U. S. HAS RIGHT TO FIX FARES

Interstate Commerce Commission
Authority Upheld by Supreme Court in Unanimous Decision

NO DISCRIMINATION

Congress May Restrain Limitation of Earnings of Interstate System
in Doing State Work

Washington, Feb. 27.—Declaring that "commerce is a unit and does not regard state lines," the supreme court today, through Chief Justice Taft, and without dissent, struck down a decision upholding the authority of the Interstate Commerce commission under the transportation act of 1920 to fix state railroad fares when necessary to remove "undue, unreasonable and unjust discrimination against interstate commerce."

Two cases were presented to the court. One was brought by the railroad commission of Wisconsin and others against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, seeking an injunction to prevent the railroads of the state from putting into effect on state passenger lines the new 3.6 cents per mile allowed by the government on interstate travel.

The other was brought by the state of New York against the federal government, the Interstate Commerce commission, and certain railroads of that state on the ground that the federal act forbade the public utility commission from forcing unfavorable returns to the railroads upon their state traffic. In both states, freight rates had been advanced to the interstate level without objection from the states.

"Congress in its control of the interstate commerce system is seeking in the transportation act to make the system adequate to the needs of the country by securing for it a reasonable compensatory return for all the work it does," the chief justice stated in the opinion. "The states are seeking to use that same system for interstate traffic. That entails large duties and expenditures on the interstate commerce system which may be received from the intrastate business reasonably proportionate to that for the interstate business. Congress as the dominant controller of the interstate commerce may therefore restrain undue limitation of the earning power of the interstate commerce system in doing state work."

It can impose any reasonable condition on a state's use of interstate carriers for intrastate commerce it deems necessary or desirable. This is because of the supremacy of the national power in this field.

The court declared there was "no room for discussion" on the question of the constitutionality of the transportation act, stating that it "had no doubt" in the matter.

ASSEMBLY VOTES TO SEAT CLAESSENS, N. Y. SOCIALIST

Albany, Feb. 27.—By a vote of 131 to 5, the New York assembly tonight voted to seat August Claessens, who was twice expelled from the lower house of the legislature in 1920. Claessens had contested the right of Murray Felsenstein, Democrat, to represent the 17th New York assembly district on the contention that he had not received a plurality of the vote in the last election. The official canvass by the subcommittee of the judiciary committee, which conducted an investigation and submitted its findings tonight, showed that Claessens had received 453 votes more than Felsenstein, who was certified to by the board of canvassers.

INDICT TWELVE SHIP BUILDERS FOR CONSPIRACY

Charles W. Morse and His Three Sons Among Those Accused of War-Time Frauds

"TERRIBLY UNJUST"

Personal Feeling Against Him By Attorney General Daugherty Led to Action, Morse Declares

Washington, Feb. 27.—Charles W. Morse, New York ship builder, his three sons, Ervin, Benjamin and Harry Morse, and eight others alleged to have been associated with him in connection with war-time shipping contracts, were today indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of "conspiracy to defraud" the United States and the Emergency Fleet corporation. Those indicted in addition to Morse and his sons were:

Colin H. Livingston, former president of the Virginia Ship Building corporation and president of the Boy Scouts of America.

George M. Burdick, attorney for the Morse interests, especially the United States Transportation company, Inc.

Nehemiah H. Campbell of New York, assistant treasurer of the United States Transportation company, Inc.

Rupert Much of Augusta, Me., assistant treasurer of the Virginia Ship Building corporation.

W. W. Scott of Washington, attorney for the Virginia Ship Building corporation.

Philip Reinhardt, auditor for the United States Fleet corporation at Alexandria, Va.

Leonard D. Christie, treasurer of the Virginia Ship Building corporation.

Robert O. White, assistant treasurer of the Groton Iron works and president of the United States Transportation company, Inc.

Two Separate Indictments.

Two indictments were returned, both covering identical transactions and accusing the same persons. One charges a conspiracy to defraud the United States and the other a conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States by defrauding the United States Shipping board.

United States Attorney Peyton Gordon, it was stated, will require the defendants to appear in the District of Columbia supreme court for arraignment, when they can be released under $10,000 bond in each case.

"Terribly Unjust" Says Morse.

In a statement issued after the indictment was returned, Mr. Morse charged that "the indictment, which is terribly unjust, as will be proved later, I believe, was secured because of personal feeling against me on the part of Attorney General Daugherty and certain present officials of the United States Shipping board." Mr. Morse's attorney, William J. Lambert, said that indictments against Mr. Morse and his associates, "would never have been returned had they been permitted to appear before the grand jury," and that the defendants all will be promptly acquitted as soon as the "real and actual evidence" is presented.

The indictments, charging the defendants specifically with falsely pretending to the shipping board and the fleet corporation that the ship building corporations they represented would be able to erect and equip from their own funds ship building plants of sufficient size to enable them to carry out contracts given them by the fleet corporation, and to proceed without delay to the construction of vessels. The intention of the defendants, it was alleged, was to obtain large sums of money from the fleet corporation by falsely representing that said sums would be used for construction of vessels and to divert large sums from the ship construction for the erection and equipment of plants and housing facilities, and thus convert the funds to the use of ship building corporations and themselves, and to delay ship construction.

The indictments further charged that the defendants falsely pretended that large sums of money were due from the fleet corporation, as progress payments, and obtained the money when they knew it was not due.

BATTERED TAXICAB GIVES CLUE TO ITALIAN'S SLAYER

White Plains, Feb. 27.—A battered taxicab left at a local garage early today for repairs is now thought by police to have carried the slayers of Paula Letto, the young Italian whose body, with eight bullet wounds in the back, was found last night on the Turnpike road, near Mount Calvary cemetery.

The driver of the cab and one passenger, "a strange appearing" man, left hurriedly after giving information for the machine's repair employees told the police.

Letto's body was by his uncle, Joseph, who said this country had worked as a day that the young man so far as he knew.

PIRATES SMASH 3 RECORDS

Are Now Tied With Cubs for First Place in N. C. A. Bowling Tournament — Former Individual Star of Last Night's Bowling.

The most sensational bowling of the season on the N. C. A. alleys was staged in last night's tournament play by the Pirates when they established three new records for the tournament and tied for first place with the Cubs, who for many weeks have held undisputed sway at the top of the percentage column.

The Pirates took all three games from their opponents, the Browns, placing them on a par with the Cubs each team having won 30 games and lost 15, giving a percentage of 667. The Giants hold second place, and are followed in order by the Browns, Braves, Dodgers, Athletics, Yanks, Indians and Red Sox.

The Pirates started off smashing records the very first thing last night. Three of the five men got 200 marks and when the game was over, the Pirate total read 972, the former single-game record was 924, made by the Giants. The Pirates nearly hit the 900 mark again in the second game, but dropped down to 851 in the final. When figured up on the score sheet, it was revealed that the Pirates had a total of 2,722 nine. This beat their own record of 2,694, made several weeks ago.

Forner was the individual star of the night. In the first game, he topped the maples to the tune of 239, in the second 192, and in the final round, 223, thus giving him a total of 654. This exceeded by eight pins the mark Dewey Thomas had hung up. The Pirates are to be congratulated.

MARKET'S ADVANCES
LOST IN FINAL HOUR

Heavy Close Brings Extreme Reversals of One to Five Points From Maximum Quotations

New York, Feb. 27. — Foreign developments over the week-end were accelerating factors in the greater strength and activity shown by the stock market during the first half of today's session, leaders making extreme gains of one to four points.

Practically all of the advance was lost in the final hour, however, when selling of steel, equipment, oil, tobacco and chemicals caused a heavy close at extreme reversals of one to five points from maximum quotations. Railroad tonnage at principal terminals continued to gain on the more extensive movement of foodstuffs to distributing centers but western investors showed a disposition to await the result of bonus legislation at Washington before assuming new commitments.

Bills were the mainstay of the market yielding only moderately when such issues as Baldwin and American Locomotives, and independent steels, Studebaker, Mexican Petroleum, California Petroleum, Tobacco Products, Retail Stores and Davison Chemical were under fire at net losses of one to four points.

The money market was not especially responsive to last week's better clearing house statement, opening at five per cent for call loans and yielding very gradually to four and one-half per cent. Short time loans were unchanged at 4 1/2 per cent and a few longer maturities were reported.

Buying of Liberty bonds expanded, although several of those issues closed at slight losses. Local transactions, notably Brooklyn Transit's, registered substantial gains.

IT HAPPENED IN ONEONTA

And Is Happening to Oneonta People Every Week.

The case told below is not an uncommon thing. The same occurs frequently and will continue to happen as long as folks have kidneys and overtax the kidneys.

C. P. Sprague, 497 Main street, Oneonta, says "Some years ago I was down and out with my kidneys. I had sharp pains in my loins and in the small of my back and I could hardly stand, at times. When I bent, it was difficult for me to straighten and my rest was disturbed by the irregular action of my kidneys. The kidney secretions were highly colored and contained a brick-dust-like sediment. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking six boxes I was cured."

Price 60¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Sprague had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SOME UNADILLA EVENTS

Fire Department Reception and Banquet—Hon. C. C. Flaesch Principal speaker.

Unadilla, Feb. 27.—The annual reception and banquet of the fire department was held Friday night. A fresh salmon dinner was served at 6 o'clock, at the Red Men's hall by the daughters of Pocahontas. After dinner the firemen and their families and guests assembled at the community house. Lon Sherwood was master of the ceremonies. Hon. Charles C. Flaesch gave a very interesting and entertaining account of the "Early History of the Volunteer Firemen" and also touched upon the good influence on the young men, owing to discipline and physical training received in it. His speech was much enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Claude Oles gave a violin solo. Frank Grimm was the song bird. Messrs. Frank Barden and Claude Oles gave a cornet duet. The Unadilla orchestra also gave several selections. Rev. Mr. Balles, noted preacher and musician of Hartwick, harmed his audience with his tricks and stunts, introducing a Christian spirit into many of his acts. Afterwards, dancing and cards filled out the list of enjoyments for the evening.

Prize Speaking Contest. The prize speaking contest held in the Assembly hall Friday night was very well attended and was much enjoyed by all. Miss Adah Butler, whose subject was "Commencement," won the first prize of $3 for recitation. This prize was given by C. C.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, tell that they could hardly keep their houses without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Fill a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times as cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every pore, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat, croup, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Picture 80 Years Old.

Among the decorations of store windows in honor of Washington's birthday, that of Owen G. Clark was particularly worthy of mention. In the window was a steel engraving, nearly life size, of the head and shoulders of the father of our country, over which the flag was draped. The engraving is a copy of Rembrandt Peale's work. It hung upon the walls of the Otsego Republican printing office when the paper was edited by Andrew M. Barber in 1840. How much earlier than that time it was not known. The engraving is the property of Clarence W. Davidson.

BIGGER CHURCH MEMBERSHIP.

The quite general pessimistic feeling that the church is losing ground in the United States has no actual foundation in fact, according to figures recently compiled by the Federal Council of Churches in America, and which submit figures to back up its contentions.

During the last five years an average of 2,175 persons joined the church daily, an average of three congregations was organized daily and an average of four and one-half persons entered the ministry daily. These figures, of course, apply only to the United States.

In five years the Sunday schools of the country have gained 2,065,917 members and 4,395 schools.

The churches of the country last year spent more than half a billion dollars.

Statistics for 1921 show that the Methodist church, including the Methodist church south, and Methodist Protestants, had a membership of about 6,500,000 and raised about $122,000,000. This did not include the colored church.

The Presbyterian church with around 2,500,000 members raised $68,000,000.

The Roman Catholics with 17,835,000 members raised $75,000,000.

The Baptist membership is nearly 8,000,000 and the amount raised was about $60,000,000.

The Protestant Episcopal church, with membership of 1,100,000, raised $35,000,000.

More than 98,000,000 residents of the United States were or had at some time been connected with some church.

The 1921 census shows that these are very satisfactory figures, a few of which had previously appeared in these columns, and together they are evidence that the spirit of Christ, despite all that the world has undergone, and perhaps to some extent on account of it, is still abroad in the land.

THE IRISH SITUATION

It is unfortunate, there is no question about it, that the Irish question is not settled, doubly unfortunate that the present difficulties are not so much with the English as among the members of the two groups of Irish patriots themselves. The one group, the British party, recognizes that in the agreement with the Lloyd George government Ireland has received about all that can be expected in the matter of freedom, and that in fact absolute freedom is probably not desirable, since so long as Ireland remains a dominion of the empire she will have the support of Great Britain in case of foreign difficulties which are not improbable. On the other hand nothing will satisfy the DeValera faction except absolute freedom, and probably sovereignty over Ulster in his home county of County Clare he has enthusiastic support, but this is not true over the whole island, or among the conservative patriots, who think that the island has had enough of war.

There is a widespread feeling that so long as the agitation continues in Ireland, there will be riot in Ireland who will carry on warfare. The way to stop fighting, therefore, appears to be to cut off the financial supply. The Catholic clergy on the island, it is known, are tired of the struggle, believe in general that Ireland has obtained all that she can expect, perhaps all that is good for her, and should now stop fighting and apply herself to the task of reconstruction which lies ahead. "Unless I am in error," said the Bishop of Killarney in his Lenten pastoral letter, "the bulk of the Irish people are tired of war. They long for rest. They want to avail themselves of the opportunity by honest work to build a great and prosperous Ireland. Unless we are careful we may find ourselves someday with out either a treaty or a republic."

MODERN HELPS TO HOUSEWIFE

Even Long Handled Mop and Dust Pan Reduce Fatigue in Home Work.

A few simple and inexpensive household helps will work wonders in reducing the fatigue with which the must-be-done tasks of the home may be accomplished, say home economics workers at the State college at Ithaca, who are studying ways of making woman's work easier. Even a long-handled mop and dust pan will save an unbelievably large amount of back-breaking bending in brushing up the floor and dusting the furniture, they say.

For scrubbing, there's the hand wringer with the long handle that can be attached to a pail. The mop is easily wrung out without having to bend over the bucket, or without getting the hands into the water.

The long handled duster is another saver of strength, say those who have adopted this weapon against dirt. With it the housewife is able to reach the rungs of chairs or each section of the gate-leg table with ease. Such dusters are chemically treated so that the dust is easily collected and held, and are as radically different from the old feather duster of grandmother's day as can be imagined.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Matthews at Security.
On Tuesday, when Prof. Brander Matthews spoke to address his class in Columbia university, they broke in with cheers and song. He did not break down—who ever saw Brander break down?—but he answered back with cheers of his own and come-backs and jeers. It was his seventeenth birthday, and his and their way of remembering it.—[Philadelphia Ledger.]Real Senatorial Battle.
Formal announcement of the aspiration of Albert Jeremiah Beveridge to return to the United States senate from Indiana confirms the worst fears of the supporters of Senator Harry S. New, who is out for re-election. This effort to make it appear that the former senator is an anti-administration candidate because of the close relationship between Senator New, and the White House finds no basis in the announcement itself, which indicates that the rivalry is apparently merely a matter of each wanting the place.—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.]Three Big Questions.
The administration and congress are now dealing with no less than three vitally important subjects, the relations of the United States with Europe. Upon the wisdom of action depends the welfare of Americans, in large measure, for the subjects in question deal with political relations, commerce and finance. It wisely adjusted Europe will experience immediate relief in many directions which will encourage the payment of debts, the exchange of commodities, and the reduction of war expenses.—[Washington Post.]Planning for Land Disarmament.
A commission of the League of Nations is preparing a plan for the next assembly on the reduction of land armaments. It is not an easy subject on which to arrive at an agreement. There are two main difficulties. One is to reach a settlement in principle, and here France exercises an absolute veto; the other is technical, in that while everybody knows what is a capital ship or a submarine, nobody can define munitions and nobody can define an army. Almost everything from cotton to cannon is munitions, every able-bodied male is a potential soldier. It is therefore very hard to establish a ratio on land similar to the one established at sea.—[New York World.]Backbone Broken.
A little bird—a blue bird, we suspect—whispers to us that the backbone of winter has been broken, or if not that, at least the old fellow has had a bad case of lumbago. And it's welcome news. Even the boys and girls who longed for "the first snow" have had enough of it, and nobody but the girls with silver bells on their gossamer will be sorry when the slush and mud of the breaking-up period are passed.—[Harrisburg Telegraph.]Can't See the Joke.
If earlier reports of the effects of the bill introduced into the House by Congressman Ten Eyck, of New York are preliminary of a general fear throughout Canada, opponents of the proposed St. Lawrence river canal may congratulate themselves upon the easy and inexpensive strategy that will dispose of the enterprise. The Toronto Mail and Empire declines the temptation to view the bill to turn that part of Quebec south of the St. Lawrence over to the United States as partial payment on the British war debt as a joke, with a trick somewhat negligently concealed in it.—[Pittsburgh Dispatch.]Chinese Policeman.
Mr. Chett, from China, promenade in Seattle, Wash., saw a policeman and bowed courteously. The policeman arrested him. Arrested at the police station, Mr. Chett bowed in rapid succession to every policeman from the presiding genius down. The learned policeman immediately sent him to the insanity board. Through an interpreter, Mr. Chett explained that he was only being polite and bowing to grandeur. Now he is free again and will learn to stare at uniforms without bowing, in the American way.—[New York American.]Stars in the Missouri Firmament.
Here comes Missouri with a list of forty-four bona fide authors. Is it challenging Indiana for the laurels which that state flched from the East? Even if half the names on the list sound strangely in the ears of those not fortunate enough to live in Missouri, there are others there familiar—Harold Bell Wright, for example, Rupert Hughes and George Creel. It is well that Missouri should take pride, even if a little exaggerated, in her sons and daughters who are advancing, though not with equal step, along the road to fame.—[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

ARRANGEMENTS PROGRESSING

Chamber of Commerce Dinner Friday Evening Promises to Be Successful Affair — Not Limited to Members — Douglas Malloch to Be Principal Speaker.

"Husbands and Wives" will be the topic of Douglas Malloch's address at the annual banquet of Oneonta Chamber of Commerce at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening at the Hotel Oneonta, according to advices received from the Chicago office of the noted humorist. Journalist who has delighted Oneonta audiences with his inimitable humor on two previous occasions.

Tickets for the banquet are going satisfactorily. Frank G. Sherman, chairman of the attendance committee, reported yesterday, but it is urged that every Chamber member who has not yet secured tickets do so today, as a guarantee must be given the hotel management before this evening. The ticket sale will close tomorrow, in order to certify the guarantee. The following members of the attendance committee have tickets: Mr. Sherman, Clifford Beach, Fred B. Carr, Lynn L. Gardner, J. L. Leach, William H. Lunn, S. E. McKoon and Miss Helen F. Rowe. Tickets may also be obtained at the Hotel Oneonta desk, the Chamber of Commerce offices, or from Secretary Hicks.

The program committee met yesterday to approve the menu for a five-course dinner and complete other arrangements. Chairman Ralph S. Wyckoff announced that Owen C. Becker, president for the past year, will speak briefly on "Oneonta Chamber of Commerce as a Community Builder," and that a third speaker is being secured, to be announced later. President Roscoe C. Briggs will be toastmaster. An orchestra will furnish music during the banquet.

Any citizens not members of the Chamber desiring to attend the banquet and hear Douglas Malloch are cordially invited to avail themselves of this opportunity, as all Chamber of Commerce gatherings are public. Women are especially invited, and the subject taken by "the poet of the woods," as well as the ticket sale to date, indicates that many of the men will bring their wives. This does not mean, however, that bachelors, widowers, etc., will not enjoy the talk as much or more than the married.

LIGHT-SIX SEDAN

f. o. b. South Bend

See This New Low-Priced Sedan!

Two more cylinders make a world of difference.

You notice it when the LIGHT-SIX slows down to a snail's gait in traffic. You notice it when the open highway ahead invites the throttle. You notice it in the greater responsiveness, the greater flexibility, the greater smoothness and in the absence of vibration.

There are new driving pleasures waiting for you in the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX Sedan.

Not only is its motor more powerful, more flexible and freer from vibration than any other light six-cylinder motor ever produced, but the perfect distribution of the car weight over all four wheels gives it unusual riding and driving qualities.

If you have been accustomed to driving a "four," the responsiveness of the LIGHT-SIX will be a revelation. If you are now driving another six-cylinder car, the lack of vibration and perfect balance of this LIGHT-SIX will create new standards of riding comfort.

But, equally important, is the new low price of $1750—an intrinsic value without parallel in the industry!

Studebaker is the World's Largest Builder of Six-Cylinder Cars!

LOCAL MENTION

Company G band will give its first and last indoor concert of the season at the 7 and 9 o'clock shows at the Oneonta theatre this evening in conjunction with the regular picture program.

A most delightful time was experienced by all at the regular meeting of Queen Esther circle held last evening at the home of Miss Madalyn Todd, 52 Cedar street. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

A line under the cut of the High school basketball team in Saturday's issue of The Star stated that the High school team had won ten games and lost eight. This is incorrect, the team having won eleven games and lost two.

Indicative of the interest that Dollar day has aroused in the city is the query of the school child to his teacher yesterday as to whether there would be school today. The teacher replied that school would keep as usual and that the child by coming to school would show the same good sense displayed by his mother when taking advantage of Dollar day bargains.

PREDICT DROP IN COAL

LOCAL DEALERS ALSO STATE THAT IMPENDING STRIKE SHOULD OCCASION NO WORRY.

Residents Asked to Lay in Reasonable Supplies, But Are Advised Not to Hoard. The new prices will be lower in Spring. Local Dealers Give Interesting Facts in Regard to Present Situation at the Mines.

Residents of Oneonta have little cause for worry in the event of a coal strike, if they are willing to co-operate with local dealers and are fore-sighted to the extent of providing for their needs for the rest of the coal-burning season, was the uniform statement of Oneonta's dealers when interviewed by a Star representative yesterday. It was also intimated that a reduction in coal prices in the city was confidently expected after the present labor troubles are concluded. Such reduction will likely be from $1.25 to $1.75 a ton, depending upon the extent to which miners' wages are lowered by new contracts.

It is not anticipated that a strike will cause any increase in present prices, because of the generous stocks now in the hands of retailers and in storage by the larger operating companies.

Householders should be careful to see that they have two or three tons of coal in their bins by April 1, so that they will have sufficient supply to carry them through to warm weather, but aside from that the dealers feel, in view of the present high prices, that it is a waste of money for anyone to stock up with more coal than is actually needed. It was advised that consumers wait until the summer, when they can obtain plenty of coal at lower prices.

The opinion of the local dealers is that the threatened strike can be but of short duration, public opinion being uniformly opposed to the demands now being made by the miners. Furthermore, the cost of coal to the consumer is felt to be too high when reductions in almost all other lines are brought into comparison. Laborers and day men in the mines are said to be making as high as $7.50 for eight hours, and miners are drawing upward of $200 every two weeks. This condition concededly cannot long continue, and the coal miners must make their reduction in wages the same as other workers, practically all of whom have yielded to the general trend of reduction in the past year.

During the war period, from 1915 to the present time, the wages of coal miners advanced exactly 133 1/3 percent and there has been no cut whatsoever. The last raise, on April 1, 1920, added about a dollar to the cost of fuel, which was further increased in Oneonta 75 cents by the freight rate increase of August, 1920.

Conditions this year are said to be unique in that the wage contracts are expiring at the same time in both the anthracite and bituminous fields, evidently with a hope on the part of the miners who brought this about that the complete fuel ship which would result would force the country into a panic and force a settlement in their favor, probably through government intervention. So far the government has shown little disposition to step in and such action is considered far from probable in view of the desire of the public generally to see the issue determined.

In contrast to the pay received by miners it is pointed out that the railroad men, who received but an 80 per cent increase during the war, voluntarily accepted a ten per cent cut when business conditions demanded it, while the anthracite miners, already receiving a highly inflated wage, are demanding a 20 per cent increase.

The operators have requested a drop of 30 per cent, and it is believed that the strike that people are now talking of. Such a drop would mean about $1.25 off the price of coal, and freight reductions which are reasonably to be anticipated would further lower the cost. In this connection it is to be noted that a reduction in fuel costs would result in large savings to the railroads, many of which must purchase their coal the same as any other consumer. The saving in fuel of the railroads would be large and would help in cutting freight rates.

The coal trade, both operators and retailers, are pledged to pass on to the consumer every saving that they hope to receive through wage and freight reductions. It has long been recognized by them that the cost to the consumer was entirely too high and that the public is justified in complaining. Relief seems at hand now, although a strike of some duration, be it long or short, seems inevitable. It is coming at the termination of the coal using period, at least for households, and will occasion no distress for anyone provided reasonable supplies be accumulated in consumer's bins during the five weeks before April 1.

Local stocks are said to be normal and dealers do not intend to increase them in view of the certain loss that would have to be taken when the cost drops. Whether this will be in April or August cannot now be told.

TODAY IS DOLLAR DAY

Oneonta Will Be Mecca for Many. Expect to Take Advantage of Exceptional Offers Made by Local Merchants — Dollar Will Reach New Heights of Fame Today.

Today is Dollar Day and unless indications go wrong the stores of local merchants will be crowded from opening until closing time with persons eager to take advantage of the many opportunities offered them to stretch the purchasing power of their greenbacks and silver "cast wheels." Prices in Oneonta average normally as low or lower than those in other cities and towns in this section and today prices will be lower than ever.

Oneonta will be the Mecca today for purchasers from a wide area. Special rates have been allowed on the colley and many readings along that line will doubtless come to Oneonta to share in the many bargains. The weather promises to be propitious, which will enable many to make the trip by motor from surrounding farms and villages.

In many instances merchants will suffer from actual loss on the bargains which they will offer but their gains will be our gain. They are meeting you half way and are trying to help a bit in meeting the problems of the present period of reconstruction. State and federal income taxes will be due shortly and will make their demands upon us all. Look around a bit today and we will be mistaken if you can't find things you need and on which you can save enough to help meet those taxes.

It would be useless to try to list even a few of the many exceptional offers made by local merchants for today only. Look over the advertisements appearing in The Star of yesterday and today and you will get an idea of just how much the dollar is worth. Ingersoll may have made the dollar famous with his watch but Oneonta merchants today will demonstrate that he had no monopoly on the dollar boosting business.

Visit the stores today. You will find the stocks well and attractively displayed, the clerks courteous and attentive, and bargains plentiful.

OTSEGO HOLSTEIN BREEDERS

Big Meeting This Afternoon in Municipal Building—President Bigler and Secretary Zimmer of State Association to Speak.

Otsego county Holstein breeders will gather at Municipal hall here today at one of the biggest breeders' meetings of the year. In addition to local speakers, President C. F. Bigler and Secretary E. R. Zimmer of the New York State Holstein Friesian association will speak. The meeting is one of a series being held by the state club throughout the state.

Work of the state club will be explained by state officials. Plans have already been perfected for holding a series of sales during the year, the next state sale coming at Earlville on May 9 and 10. The state association is also aiding county clubs in holding sales, the first one for the Southwestern breeders, scheduled at Batavia March 29.

With important developments of interest to every breeder of Black and White cattle expected at the national meeting and sale at Kansas City next June, the state club is working out closer and better relations with local and county clubs, especially in regard to the joint fee system and closer co-operation. Excellent success has been met so far, according to Mr. Zimmer.

The state club is now running under a definite program worked out by prominent breeders and designed to place New York Holsteins in the front rank and keep them there. Of value to every breeder, close and consistent support is being sought. Excellent response has been met in every quarter, according to President Bigler.

COMMUNITY SINGING DANCE

Knights of Columbus Hold Unique and Successful Dance in Oneonta. Dancing Academy Last Evening.

One of the most unique dances ever held in the city was the "Community Singing Dance" held at the Oneonta Dancing academy last evening by Oneonta Council of the Knights of Columbus. One hundred and forty couples were in attendance and a most enjoyable time was had by all. At intervals during the evening popular songs were sung by local vocalists and the dancers were asked to join in the choruses. The soloists and their selections follow: Tuck Me to Sleep in My Old Tucky Home, Miss Irene Hayes; Pretty Kitty Kelly, John Meskill; The Sheikh, Clifford Walsh; If You Had All the World and Its Gold, James Walsh; April Showers, Frank Walsh, Peggy O'Neil, Clifford Walsh. The dancers entered into the spirit of the occasion and made the community singing a conspicuous success.

During the evening prize dances were held. The one step was won by Mr. and Mrs. O. Bagge, the waltz by Richard Ostlander and Miss Wright and the fox trot by Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Allen. The last named couple also won the prize for the most popular couple in the most popular dance.

SAFETY OF PUBLIC AND MEN

DEMANDS RETENTION OF FULL CREW LAW ON STATUTE BOOKS.

Attorney Lamphier, representing the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, declared at the Public Meeting at Municipal Hall last night—Other Speakers Announced Unable to Be Present.

Arthur M. Lamphier, attorney for the legislative department of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was the principal speaker at the meeting at the Municipal Hall last evening to discuss the Full Crew law, which it is proposed to repeal at Albany according to a measure that has been introduced. The other speakers were unavoidably detained from appearing in Oneonta much to the regret of the committee having the meeting in charge.

Mr. Lamphier's chief arguments were based upon the claim that the third man on the train is conducive to the safety of the public and of the other employees of the railroad and should be retained as a state law. In opening his address he declared that it is important that the men who are elected to enact laws and provide needed legislation for the general welfare should assume the responsibility and make such laws as are needed for the safety, health and welfare of the public. If, said he, the Public Service commission is to determine these matters, we will have to let them, and discontinue with the legislature.

The law as it now stands, the speaker said, requires that the railroads of the state having more than 50 miles of road shall man all trains of 25 cars or more with six men, an engineer, fireman, conductor and three trainmen, and also requires a certain prescribed number for other trains. In one breath the railroads declare that the repeal of the law will result in reduced expenses and thus a reduction of freight rates will follow and then declare that if the measure is stricken from the statute books the power to determine the number of men on each train will be left with the Public Service commission. This indicates clearly, he said, that they know what the Public Service commission will do in the event that the determination is left to them.

The speaker cited that the law has been in force for years and during this time the size of the locomotives has been greatly increased and the length of the trains doubled, asserting that the law is now more needed than when it was enacted. He cited the amount of lawlessness as now prevailing and expressed a conviction that the one additional man on the train would prevent much robbery of freight cars and save the companies the expense of the difficulties that cities have in securing an equitable and just ruling on gas and electric rates as evidence that the commission will not consider the claims of the men as they should be considered.

The speaker urged that legislators are not familiar with the risks that railroad men assume and asserted that the work is hard and the pay of the men small. He further urged that freight rates are subject to regulation by the Interstate Commerce commission and hence not controlled by the state commission. He cited numerous laws as proof that it is and has been the policy of the state to protect the employees of this kind. In the absence of knowledge by legislators the speaker urged that legislators should accept the statements of the railroad employees that the Full Crew law is essential to the safety of the public and the employees of the railroads. Dollars are not to be compared to lives, the speaker asserted.

Before closing his address Mr. Lamphier said that in the year ending June 30, 1913, 42 more passengers were killed on the railroads of New York state than during the year ending June 30, 1915, after the law had been in force. He appealed to all present to urge their senator and assemblyman to oppose the repeal of the law.

Thomas G. Evans, who presided, followed Mr. Lamphier, making a brief speech in which he cited the fact that the freight on a ton of coal from Carbondale to Oneonta is from $2.25 to $2.60. The average train hauls about 3,000 tons and the extra trainman costs the company $4.48, so one additional man adds to the freight costs.

He further called attention to the paid reading notice appearing in The Star of yesterday and asserted that it was not the opinion of any resident of Otsego county but the part of the propaganda of the railroads designed to create public sentiment as to favor the repeal of the law. He declared that the organizations would inform the public in the future about measures and endeavor to combat what he styled the deceptive statements often given to the public.

SOCIAL SERVICE EXCHANGE

Meeting of Social Workers Held at Community House Yesterday to Consider Plans for Central Registry of Social Work Cases—Committee Appointed to Work Up Plan.

A committee to outline a plan for a social service exchange in order that the activities of the churches and other social agencies in the city might not overlap, was appointed at a meeting held at the Community house yesterday afternoon by ministers, social workers and others interested in social work in the city. This committee, which consists of Captain Harrison of the Salvation Army, Mrs. Joseph Brady, agent for the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children, John McGuiness, city commissioner of charities, Rev. N. S. Ford of the River Street Baptist church and Miss Bertha Poston, executive secretary of the Family Social Work association, will report at a meeting to be held on March 13.

Yesterday's meeting was presided over by Mayor C. C. Miller with Mrs. Brady acting as secretary. Twenty persons interested in social work were present. The purpose of the meeting was to work out some plan for a central registry for the use of churches and social work organizations, the idea being to have a card index of cases so that there will be no duplication of effort. No endeavor will be made to control existing agencies or to divide up their work.

After Miss Poston had explained the work of such an exchange and had told how the scheme has worked out in other cities, a general discussion ensued with no dissenting voices heard. It was generally felt that the plan would prevent overlapping of work, conserve the time of the workers, save families from unnecessary visiting and investigation and promote efficiency.

CONDEMNED SLAYER STARVING TO DEATH

Chicago Youth Who Killed Two
Auto Salesmen Has Refused
Food for Thirty Days

Chicago, Feb. 27. — Medical and psychological experts for 30 days have been watching the desperate effort of Harvey W. Church, double slayer, sentenced to hang next Friday, to cheat the gallows by starving himself to death, today declared that he had succeeded in committing mental suicide.

According to Dr. Norman Copeland, who had been directing the forcible feeding of Church during the past few days, the physical crisis in the youth's condition has passed and he will live physically.

Other physicians, however, assert that Church already is mentally dead. He is not insane, they say, but has reduced himself to such a state of self-hypnosis that he will feel no pain when the trap is sprung Friday.

Church's hunger strike began more than 30 days ago. For the past two weeks he has been forcing food into his mouth by force.

"At times, we are not even sure he is breathing," the death watch said. "It would be easier to sit beside a corpse."

Meanwhile Church's mother is praying for death to release him before he is carried to the gallows to pay for the slaying of two automobile salesmen, to obtain possession of their car.

"He's innocent," she insists, "because he must have been insane and did not know what he was doing."

Proleska Thought to Be Insane.

Drs. A. H. Brownell and F. H. Marx have been appointed by Supreme Court Justice A. J. Kellogg as a commission to inquire into the sanity of Mike Proleska, arrested Saturday evening for vagrancy. This is Proleska's third offense. The first time he was sentenced to 180 days in the Albany penitentiary. Upon the expiration of his sentence in January he came to Oneonta and was again arrested and was this time given a sentence of six months which was suspended upon condition that he get out of the United States. It is thought by local police officials that his mind is unbalanced, hence the appointment of the commission in lunacy.

FRESH AIR REFRESHES

Problem of Drafts Easily Solved With Muslin Covered Screen
In Windows.

Fresh air is as necessary in winter as in summer if one is to feel refreshed and buoyant after a night's sleep. Say those who are giving particular attention to matters of health. The same is true, they point out, in the school room.

For both school room and home, a muslin window screen is often the solution of the problem of securing fresh air without a direct draught, say home economics workers at Cornell.

Clubs or groups of community-minded persons may be interested in securing such screens for their local school.

This window ventilator may be made by covering an ordinary window screen with heavy unbleached muslin. A satisfactory frame may be made of narrow strips of board the width of the window and of the desired height — usually four to six inches.

Over the frame is stretched one thickness of heavy unbleached muslin, which is tacked firmly on all four sides. One of these ventilators may be slipped in above the top sash, and another below the bottom sash of the window; the air will circulate more freely if the windows are open at the top as well as at the bottom. It is desirable to open the windows on different sides of the room in order that there may be a cross circulation of air.

Embroidered Knees Latest Hose Fad

Atlantic City.—Something like $1,000,000 worth of smart gowns, nifty hats and bonnets and wonderful furs were on view on the board walk the other day. A perfect winter dudy, with the sun tempering the breezes, drew a vast throng out to promenade in the afternoon, and the parading thousands made a striking style picture.

Those vagrant breezes, by the way, brought to light a new wrinkle in hosiery when scant skirts whipped high enough to show that the embroidered knee is the very latest quirk in smart stocking styles.

According to competent observers not afflicted with any trouble of the eye, the new knee embroidery styles range from butterflys with outspread wings to birds and flowers.

Freight and Tax Extra

This beautiful closed car is the most attractive value ever offered by Hudson.

We are now showing it for the first time. Come see it. An examination of the Hudson Coach will pay you well.

The Coach will cost you less even than the open model of any car to which you compare Hudson in quality, performance and reliability.

And see how fully it meets your closed car requirements at a saving of perhaps $800 to $1500. Think of a closed car on the famous Super-Six chassis, for $1795.

That is less than 6 percent above the cost of the Hudson open models. It is a sensational achievement in car manufacture.

You need no other assurance with respect to the beauty, quality and smartness of the Coach than the fact that Hudson has always led in building fine closed cars. The Coach is in keeping with Hudson's best traditions.

It is certain to be the most popular type Hudson ever built. Be sure to see it. It is just out. Early deliveries will be possible for those who place their orders at once.
